Aarati (English Translation)

White as camphor, compassion incarnate, essence of the universe, garlanded with snakes.
Ever residing in the lotus of my heart;
To Shiva and the Goddess Mother together, I bow.

I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.
Abode of truth, consciousness and eternal bliss.
Thou art without all but always residing in the heart.
Thy image is full of compassion and so beautiful.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.
Abode of truth, consciousness and eternal bliss.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.

Repetition of thy name dries up the ocean of the world's misery. May there be only pure devotion at Thy holy feet.
My only desire is to be attached to Thy form.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.
Abode of truth, consciousness and eternal bliss.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.

Thy Form is of extreme beauty and gentleness, beyond form and formless. At the same time, filling the mind with bliss on seeing it. Gods, men, and sages all say Hail Hail to Haidakhandi. I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy. Abode of truth, consciousness and eternal bliss.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.

We take shelter and surrender before the omnipotent Lord,
Holy peaceful, non-dual, remover of sins.
The trinity, remover of pain, doer of good.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.
Abode of truth, consciousness and eternal bliss.
I offer light to the holy supreme guru, Lord of mercy.
